

Introducing our PACER feature — Docket Rocket.

Frustrated with relying on overpriced, archaic court document platforms for your research?

Now with our Docket Rocket feature, you can access critical federal court filings, including those of all of the pertinent Chapter 11 bankruptcies, faster, easier, and alongside all 9fin's credit-specific research.

Access not only court filings, but also detailed financial data, credit metrics, covenant analysis, and much more — all integrated into one platform.

Unlike PACER, which charges for individual document downloads, or alternative overpriced services that hold you captive, our feature includes all filings at no cost to you.

How to access in 9fin

- 1. Type and search: Start by typing in the company you're interested in
- 2. Access dockets: Go to the company page and click on 'Dockets' to view relevant court filings
- 3. Receive notifications: Set up real-time alerts for new filings
- 4. Search documents: Looking for something specific in a filing? Just search by document type or keyword

Unparalleled elegance, all in one place

- Search with ease: Locate specific text within the PDF filings themselves, across both multiple and within specific dockets
- Cut through the noise: Bankruptcy filings often include irrelevant procedural details. We help you rise above the clutter, delivering only the most important insights that matter to you
- Never miss an update: Receive real-time notifications on new filings so you're always in the know
- Access an integrated dataset: No more jumping between disparate systems — all relevant court filings, financials, and restructuring data lives in a unified workspace

Get started today

Ready to experience the future of bankruptcy research and restructuring analysis?

Request a demo today and see how our Docket Rocket feature can save you time, money, and headaches, while giving you the real-time insights you need to stay ahead of the competition.